The background is a solid dark gray. On the left side, there is a thick, hand-drawn yellow arc that starts near the top left and curves downwards towards the center. Below this, there are several thick, hand-drawn red wavy lines that sweep across the lower-left portion of the frame. Interspersed among these red lines are several short, dark, vertical or near-vertical strokes, some of which appear to be made with a different medium like charcoal or black paint.
