

UNIVERSIDAD DE BURGOS
VICERRECTORADO DE INTERNACIONALIZACIÓN,
MOVILIDAD Y COOPERACIÓN

CENTRO DE COOPERACIÓN Y ACCIÓN SOLIDARIA

The University of Burgos has a long tradition in International Cooperation for Development and it is one fundamental basis of its Internationalization Strategy. The Development Cooperation and Social Action Centre is a department of the University of Burgos linked to the International Relations and Cooperation Vice-chancellorship. This body was created in October 2008 in order to develop the institutional compromise within the 'Universities Code of Conduct in Cooperation for Development'. The Centre is a gathering place to organize, promote and spread every activity related to Sustainable Human Development. It also encourages the local and International Voluntary Work. Even though its main activity is focused on the University Community, the Centre is also open to every person, association or institution that wants to be involved in the fight to get a fairer, more equal and more solidary world.

OBJECTIVES

- Encourage solidary values within the University Community.
- Transform the University into a space to reflect and debate about the necessary changes needed to promote justice and solidarity worldwide.
- Develop and promote a university policy in solidarity and Development Cooperation.
- Foster the University Community participation and sensitivity in projects related to Sustainable Human Development, Gender Equality, Equality between and within generations, Migration and Refugee, Critical Thinking and Culture for Peace.
- Coordinate and promote university teaching and researching initiatives that promote Development Education.
- Promote universities coordination and collaboration between institutions that work for similar aims.
- Coordinate initiatives with local Development Cooperation actors and social movements.
- Promote Voluntary Work within the University of Burgos.
- Collaborate on Capacity Building and Knowledge Transference Programs with countries with less Human Development Index.
